FISCAL REVIEW COMMITTEE

FISCAL NOTE

HB 957 - SB 1408

February 16, 2023

SUMMARY OF BILL: Authorizes eligible private institutions to charge a student receiving a dual enrollment grant (DEG) the costs actually incurred by the institution on the student's behalf including, but not limited to, book and material costs, digital book and material costs, special examination fees, industry certification fees, and board examination fees.

FISCAL IMPACT:

NOT SIGNIFICANT

Assumptions:

- Authorizing private institutions to charge students more than the DEG for actual costs incurred by the private institutions would not have any impact to state or local government.
- Any additional cost charged in excess of a student's DEG would increase student expenditures for students enrolled at a private institution. Any additional revenue from increased charges would be to the private institutions at which the student is enrolled.

CERTIFICATION:

The information contained herein is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.
